Biographical Sketch:
Libby Bernardin grew up in Georgetown, South Carolina. She is a graduate of the University of South Carolina, where she also worked as an instructor of English until her retirement in 2003. She continues to teach poetry workshops at the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI) of Coastal Carolina University and to serve on the South Carolina Academy of Authors' Board of Governors.

Bernardin's work has received many honors. In 1986, she was named the South Carolina Arts Commission's literary fellow. Her poem "Name Day" won honorable mention in the 1990 Porter Fleming contest. In 2007, she received the Jeanne Crandall Broulik Memorial Prize from the Poetry Society of South Carolina. Most recently, The Book of Myth was one of six winners of the 2008 South Carolina Poetry Initiative chapbook contest.
